

It hasn't happened yet...

WRITTEN & PERFORMED
BY LIZ CARR

It Hasn't Happened Yet... follows the journey of up-and-coming comedian Alex Saunders as she navigates her way through the minefields of disability and comedy, with wheelchair and alter-ego in tow.

Following tours in Melbourne and the UK, disabled comedian Liz Carr presents her critically acclaimed show that Time Out calls "Supremely funny, twisted and edgy... A darkly comic mix of theatre and stand-up". Plunging chair-first into territory where few dare to go, Carr challenges conventional perceptions about comedy, ambition, insecurity, fame and even fish!

Written and performed by Liz Carr
Directed by Poonam Brah
Designed by Helen Ainsworth
Lighting Design by Marco Cifre Quatresois
Original Music by Steve Rose
Dramaturgy by Damon Rose
Produced by Matthew Jones & Rebekah Jones

www.lizcarr.co.uk

Photography - www.jessicalongphotography.com

'I'm like a comic jalapeño - hard to swallow.' Liz Carr wonders if she should have worked this all out in therapy. It's good news for us that she opted for a more public catharsis."

★★★★ Metro

"Nothing is sacred with Liz Carr - her play is a finely hewed piece where theatre and stand-up are seamlessly interposed."

Art of Difference, Melbourne

Supported by
ARTS COUNCIL
ENGLAND